

Month: January 2011

Scripture: Psalms 33:11 "But the LORD's plans stand firm forever; his intentions can never be shaken."

Food for Thought: Need keys to unlock your DESTINY?

As the year 2011 begins I am sure most women's necks are out stretched with earnest expectation for the awesome things God has planned for us! Personally, I have already begun seeing the manifestation of his goodness and we are only 4 days into the 365 days...how good is that!!

But, I want to encourage that special woman who may have just rolled into 2011, clueless and frankly not bothered about her destiny. Or you maybe one of those women who are looking in many different places to find a meaning to your life, a purpose for living and to find your destiny. If you are struggling to figure out how you are going to fulfil your purpose and destiny this year, I want you to know that God is the imparter of destiny. You and I have the potential to do what we have been created to do. The challenge is, will you do it? Only you can make this choice. It is a matter of CHOICE not chance. God has already stamped every human being's life with destiny but you have to make the choices that will move you towards the God given purpose and destiny of your life. "For everything, absolutely everything, above and below, visible and invisible, everything got started in him and finds its purpose in him." Colossians 1:16. You were born by His purpose and for His purpose.

In 2011 please do not miss your chance to soar in your God given destiny! Strategically position yourself. If God provided everything you will ever need to fulfil your destiny, then why not take Him up on it this year? Once you believe what God says about how well equipped you are to complete your assignment then you will have no excuses not to do it! God is faithful to keep his part of the bargain. "For all the promises of God in Him are Yes, and in Him Amen, to the glory of God through us" 2 Corinthians 1:20 God is a God of Integrity. He says what He does and does what He says.

Someone asked me once "How can I know my specific destiny? Well for start, God puts desires in our hearts. God will not give you a longing to do what you have no ability to do. Don't try to be like other people. Listen to what God speaks personally to you. God gave you ideas and creativity, as well as specific areas in which you can excel in 2011. God deposited a gift, a treasure, inside you, but you have to do your part to bring it out.

I encourage you to step out in the direction of the dreams and desires God has placed within you. Do not take these talents for granted simply because they come natural to you. Make sure you explore them to their fullest. Romans 12: 6 says "God has given each of us the ability to do certain things well." You cannot do everything well, but you can do something's well. You will know when you are in the area God equipped you for because it will feel right and you will do well. Once you begin to pursue your destiny you will find a sense of completion and your confidence will grow. If you have not put your feet on the path leading to your destiny encourage you to begin the journey NOW, its not too late! Make changes NOW.

TAKE HOLD OF YOUR DESTINY NOW!

See you in February!

Love
